Snapshot of Challenge:

The screenshot shows the Frontend Mentor website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for CHALLENGES, SOLUTIONS, RESOURCES, UNLOCK, and a PRO badge. Below this, a 'CHALLENGE' tab is selected. The main content area displays the challenge details for 'URL shortening API landing page'. On the left, there's a preview of the landing page design, which includes a header with the text 'More than just shorter links', a search bar, and a section titled 'Advanced Statistics'. Below the preview, there are tabs for 'DESKTOP DESIGN', 'ACTIVE STATES', and 'MOBILE DESIGN'. To the right of the preview, the challenge title 'URL shortening API landing page' is followed by a description: 'Integrate with the shrtcode URL shortening API and play with browser storage in this landing page challenge.' Below the description, there's a section titled 'ASSETS PROVIDED' which lists several items: 'Sketch and Figma design file access - Unlock with PRO' (marked with a red X), 'JPEG design files for mobile & desktop layouts' (marked with a green check), 'Style guide for fonts, colors, etc' (marked with a green check), 'Optimized image assets' (marked with a green check), 'README file to help you get started' (marked with a green check), and 'HTML file with pre-written content' (marked with a green check). At the bottom of the challenge card, there's a note: 'It looks like you've already started this challenge.'
